Address	Chennai
Focus	Junior Artists
Date of Activity	August
Status	Completed

Description

The fate of countless junior artists in the world's largest entertainment industry hangs in balance due to the Covid 19 pandemic. Of all the communities felled by Covid 19, migrants, farmers, Urban poor - There is one that we know the least about. Ever since the shootings of films and TV serials had stopped junior artists who usually get paid by the day have been in deep distress with no work for the last 6 months and struggling to feed their families. Many of them have been living on dole and ration packets. Some of them have been forced to find alternative work as delivery boys, security guards, or even vegetable vendors to stay afloat.

Programme "ALL FOR FOLK":

All for Folk is a crowdfunding campaign to support the folk artists of India during the tough times of covid pandemic. Due to covid, all the live performances came to halt and full time folk artists were left without any work.

Artkhoj in collaboration with R.K Foundation aims to work towards preserving folk art by supporting folk artists and their art forms while allowing their natural evolution.

FOLK Artists supported: -

- Shamshad is the 7th generation impersonator artist who has been performing across the country from 7 years of age with his Father. They have been impersonator artists from generations and the family is known for its performances at various tourist places, art and religious festivals and other gatherings, not only in Rajasthan but also in other states. They have also been awarded district, state and other art-related awards in different states.
- An engineer by qualification, Yusuf left his job to pursue his passion and works on reviving the dying folk music form. Yusuf is a 25th generation Bhang playing and singing in his family. The instrument is also an invention of their family, which is known around the world for its uniqueness and sound. Yusuf Khan has performed with his father, uncle and brother in different places within and outside India. Yusuf Khan and group belong to Mungaska area in Alwar, Rajasthan and perform stories, mythology and folk songs in Mewati language.
- Ashraf Khan is a 22-years-old Folk performer from Barmer, Rajasthan. He is an all-rounder when it comes to singing and playing instruments. He masters in playing folk instruments like Morchang and Kartal. He is also an amazing singer and beatboxer. Ashraf Khan belongs to the Manganiyar community of Rajasthan. While explaining the meaning of Manganiyar, he says that their families used to get rewards from royal Rajput families for their singing, hence the name Manganiyar is derived from the Hindi term 'Maangna', which means to ask.
- Devananda is the son of a retired teacher from Hassan. His mother is a folk singer and his father a story teller and singer. He learnt Kamsale from revered performer and teacher Kumarsawmy when he went to Mysore for college education. As a passionate performer he mastered the rhythm energy, grace and power required to be Kamsale dancer and competed in multiple tournaments as a part of his college group. To continue the guru shishya parampara he also started teaching the art form to all those who were passionate and also were willing to take up the art form full time.

- Divakara is a 3rd generation folk artist from Honnenahalli near Hassan, Karnataka. He has been a performing artist for more than 4 decades. He performs Janapadha, Keelukudure, Subramanya dance among other dances and folk arts. He has received many state level award like the Rajyotsava Award in Karnataka, Kannada Sahitya award and Kannadasangha award. He also trains and manages his art group of 20 artists along with conducting workshops in public schools and colleges.
- Sundresha started performing at the early age of 5. He was influenced by his father who used to perform folk songs in their village in Maddur. With passion instilled he learnt multiple folk dance forms including Dollu Kunita, Kamsale, but he mainly performs Poojakunita. He has performed in multiple govt. programs and Kannada samsthe (organizations). He has represented his college in folk arts and has competed in national level and international level (south Asia) competitions.
- Vasava Dineshbhai Manganbhai is an Adivasi Rodali folk artists from, Amiyari (Sagbara taluka), Gujrat and they narrate stories with a group of other folk artists by singing in the Adivasi language and dancing on folk songs.
- Rambir nath is from Sarva Haryana Gramin Bank, he is a been player and come from the family of artists who have been performing and playing been from generations. Description	This centre is for the elderly men and women who have no one to take care of them. Many terminally ill elderly are brought here, they are taken care of till they are alive. The sisters take care of all their needs, caring, feeding, bathing, medication, peripherals, injectable... With such dedication and love. Periodically they seek support for groceries, medicines and peripherals. Due to covid they are unable to get support from donors. Elderly are susceptible for viruses as their immune system is down. Thus they needed this support.

COVID-19: Vitech Systems Asia Private Limited

CSR Activity - In coordination with R.K.Foundation

Status of the Projects Location: Hyderabad, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh

Phase II

As part of Vitech CSR Phase II activity identified needy students who are studying in Government schools in remote villages of Telangana and Andhra Pradesh states who cannot afford to buy the notebooks due to the financial impact of lock down & post lockdown during COVID-19 pandemic. After starting online classes by the Government, students have started attending online classes from home instead of attending from schools. Also identified few schools where there is no provision to attend online classes.

In Telangana & Andhra Pradesh States, Team has distributed 24160 Notebooks, 7130 Pens, 1196 Pencils, 1196 Sharpeners, 1196 Erasers and 1032 Examination Pads to 4678 students in 46 Schools. 12 TVs have been installed at different schools in Telangana to facilitate online classes.
